

Epoch 5 Named Best Public Relations Firm for 2025

Epoch 5 has been named the Best Public Relations Firm by the Long Island Press for the 16th consecutive year.

Huntington, NY, January 23, 2025 – For the 16th year in a row, Epoch 5 Public Relations (Huntington, New York) has been named Best Public Relations firm by the Long Island Press, with Epoch 5 President Katherine Heaviside named Best Publicist for 2025. Readers voted for Epoch 5 and Heaviside from more than a dozen PR firms and publicists.

“We keep changing to meet our clients’ changing needs,” observed Heaviside, who founded the firm over 40 years ago. “From social media to e-marketing to traditional media placements, Epoch 5 has the contacts and experience to make it happen. We are honored by this accomplishment and extend a huge thank you to our dedicated clients for their continued support. We look forward to another year of providing unparalleled service to the organizations and businesses we serve.”

Epoch 5 offers a powerful combination of strategic counsel and senior expertise backed by a diverse staff. Serving the tri-state area, Epoch 5’s mission is to develop and implement breakthrough marketing communications strategies, increase client market share, build support for growth strategies, enhance reputations, and help companies and organizations overcome crises.

While public relations is a core service of the firm, Epoch 5 is a full-service agency that provides programs comprised of integrated communication services, such as sales, social media and reputation management. The agency’s client roster includes top corporate players, including Bethpage Federal Credit Union, King Kullen Grocery Co., Inc., Family & Children’s Association, Long Island University, Cord Meyer Development, and SterlingRisk Insurance.

Epoch 5 offers complete media relations expertise, including new media and social media networking, issues management, community relations, advertising, image development, event planning, and graphic services. More information on Epoch 5 is available by visiting www.epoch5.com or by calling 631-427-1713.